

The last week of the semester will be dedicated to the presentation of reports on journal articles related to advanced topics in linear models. The presentation will be 20-30 minutes in length and will be prepared/presented by teams. These presentations are to be prepared to the level of quality expected at a professional conference or interview talk. Each team will also provide a maximum 5-page summary of the content of the paper (to be distributed to the rest of the class).

1. Form a team of 2-3 students.
2. Identify a target journal article for presentation.
