INSIGHT AND STRATEGIES for Professional Success, Personal Well-Being & Getting Along With Others

Ever wish you had a roadmap for career if not life success? Professionals in the sciences face unique challenges and pressures. And while there is no guidebook for a scientific academic career, there is the voice of experience — in this case, colleagues within the Texas A&M College of Science who have been there and lived to tell the tale.

Join us for a free all-day symposium featuring veteran Texas A&M Science professors, administrators, and thought leaders who will share their insights and proven strategies for succeeding in scientific fields while balancing personal well-being and being inclusive and compassionate with others. In addition to examples and tactics, they will offer professional instruction in mindfulness as a key practice and means to achieving successful outcomes and finding balance between one's various professional and personal commitments and responsibilities.

Friday, February 24, 2017
8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m., Rudder 601
